Office Ally Announces New Billing Service for Providers

New Offering from the Nation's Most Complete Revenue Cycle Management Company Also Includes FREE Practice Management and EHR Systems

(VANCOUVER, WA – Sept. 27, 2010) — Office Ally announced today the introduction of a new revenue cycle management service for providers, making it easier for physicians, hospitals and clinics to receive prompt and accurate reimbursement from insurance companies and patients. For providers currently doing their billing in house, this new service is expected to recognize increases in revenues of 10-20 percent.

“This new product allows providers to spend more time focusing on patient care and less time concerned with coding, billing and tracking payment,” said Brian O’Neill, Office Ally president and CEO. “As with all of the other products we offer, the billing service is designed to assist providers with their backroom operation at far less of a cost than they are typically paying for similar services. That translates into real and meaningful dollar savings for providers.”

With the addition of the new billing service, Office Ally becomes the only organization in the country to offer providers a full complement of revenue cycle management services including a patient portal, electronic health records, a practice management system, a clearinghouse and now the billing service. Providers who participate in the new billing service will receive Office Ally’s electronic health record and practice management system – which includes eligibility checking and patient reminder tools – at no charge.

Among the features included in the new billing service are daily charge entry, daily posting of payments and daily electronic filing to Medicare, Medicaid and commercial insurance companies. The service also includes monthly patient statements and monthly billing and collection support as well as insurance appeals and denials. “Our program is designed to increase cash flow, lower accounts receivables, and assure that providers receive the full reimbursement they are entitled to for the services they provide,” said O’Neill.
